~ National Cancer Survivor Month ~

June is National Cancer Survivor Month in the United States. During this month, we celebrate cancer survivors, raise awareness about the challenges they face throughout their lives, and advocate for cancer survivorship research. It's a time to honor those who have overcome cancer, support those still on their journey, and remember loved ones who have passed away. Thanks to cancer research, there are currently more than 18 million people living with a history of cancer in the United States. Each person diagnosed with cancer faces a unique set of challenges, but one in four survivors reports a poor physical quality of life and one in 10 reports poor mental health-related quality of life.

If you'd like to get involved, consider joining events, sharing your story, and supporting cancer research initiatives. Together, we can make a difference!
