Key Facts

Prevalence: Currently, there are nearly 7 million Americans living with Alzheimer's disease, and this number is expected to rise as the population ages.

Risk Factors: While age is the greatest known risk factor for Alzheimer's, many other modifiable factors, such as physical activity, diet, and mental engagement, can influence brain health.

~HR REFLECTION FOR THE MONTH~

Your mind is a powerful thing when you fill it with positive thoughts, your life will start to change.

Two things prevent us from happiness; living in the past and observing others. It always seems impossible until it is done.
