NEWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

SPRING IS IN THE AIR and so are allergies...

It's true: allergies can have a real impact on your quality of life. You can get through pollen season and enjoy the warmer weather ahead! Here are the top 5 allergy triggers, but don't forget that everyone is different so it may be worth talking with a physician about what makes YOU sneeze and what you can do to ease symptoms while these triggers are at their height.

Signs of allergies

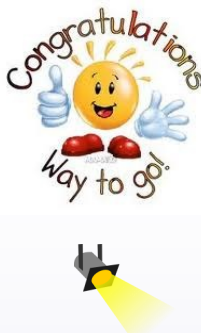

One of the most difficult aspects of living with allergies is that symptoms can sometimes be very similar to those experienced during a common cold. Here are some signs you might notice if what you're experiencing is actually just an allergy: sneezing, runny nose, red, watery & itching eyes, headache, and throat irritation.
